The Orlando Economic Partnership (the Partnership) works to provide the Orlando region with quality jobs, economic growth, broad-based prosperity and a sustainable quality of life. It is a not-for-profit, public/private partnership representing Central Florida's seven counties – Brevard, Lake, Orange, Osceola, Polk, Seminole and Volusia – as well as the City of Orlando. The Partnership was formed from the merger of the Central Florida Partnership and the Orlando Economic Development Commission with a vision to:

- Create high-wage, high-value jobs
- Expand the Central Florida region’s global reach and competitiveness
- Support and enhance educational/skills preparedness in the talent pipeline
- Strengthen advocacy for improved infrastructure and community resources
- Create an enviable quality of life that is broad-based and sustainable
